County Residents Charged For Fire-fighting Costs

Two Crawford County residents will be charged suppression costs incurred by the DNR fire division while fighting two wildfires. The residents were cited by DNR fire officers for burning without a permit.

DNR firemen were dispatched on Tuesday, May 17, to a debris fire on Wendy Lane. Smoke from the fire was spotted by an airplane, who reported it to the Grayling DNR field office. The Wendy Lane resident had been burning debris earlier in the day and thought the fire was out. Afternoon winds re-ignited the fire at 5:10 p.m. A citation was issued for burning without a permit. On Wednesday, May 18, firemen from the Grayling DNR, Roscommon DNR, and Grayling Fire Departments were called by the Crawford County Sheriff Department to fight a forest fire. The fire, located on Sunset Strip in Shangra-La subdivision 6½ miles east of Grayling off M-72, burned 2.5 acres. A 28-year-old Grayling man was burning leaves at 11:58 a.m. when the fire got out of control. He was cited for burning without a permit.

A small grass fire was reported on Sunday, May 16, by a North Down River Road resident. Firemen from the Grayling DNR and Grayling Fire Departments extinguished a fire that was contained to 1/10 acre. A passing motorist saw the grass fire at 1:05 p.m. and notified the homeowner that her yard was on fire.

Hardee's, Days Inn Set to Build Here

Venture Development Co., of Wisconsin, will begin construction in two weeks on a Hardees Restaurant located south of K-Mart on the I-75 Business Loop. Owner's of the Grayling Hardees is Restaurant of American, Inc. This company operates Hardees Restaurants in Petoskey, Ludington, and Cadillac. Bruce Gillis, of Gillis Properties, said he expects the new Hardees will open in mid-July, and employ between 60-70 people.

Bruce Gillis, Commercial Real Estate Broker, also reported that construction on a Days Inn will begin this fall. with opening scheduled for next spring. The Days Inn will be located between the K-Mart and the Southwinds Motel, and will be operated by the Traverse City Days Inn. The Grayling Days Inn is expected to employ 25-30 people.

A third business, a convenience store, is planned for this area in the future. Investors feel that this type business will complement the Hardees and Days Inn development.

Stockton Advances To Olympic Team Finals

Brett Stockton, of Grayling, advanced through the North Regionals U.S. Olympic Kayak Team trials May 21-22 despite almost losing the blade of his paddle in the 500 meter finals.

Stockton qualified for the U.S. Kayak team finals to be held June 9th in Indianapolis. Ten persons will earn spots on the 1988 Olympic team at the Kayak finals.

Stockton took 4th in the 1000 meter race and managed a 5th in 500 meter after his blade became unglued. Stockton said he had a good start in the 500 meter race — his best event — but was lucky to finish with the broken blade barely hanging on.

Stockton sent his thanks to all local persons and businesses who have supported his shot at reaching the Olympics. A special fund has been established at Grayling State Bank for anyone wishing to contribute.

Shell Sulfur Plant Expected To Shut Down

Because of the continued depletion of gas reserves, Shell Western E&P Inc. (SWEPI) plans to close the Frederic 10 Sulfur Plant in Crawford County. No definite date for closure has been announced, said Tom Denman, a public affairs spokesman for SWEPI.

At the time of the closing, SWEPI plans to mothball the equipment so the plant could reopen at a later date if additional gas reserves are found in the area.

At the height of activity, SWEPI employed 16 people and the facility processed approximately 8 million cubic feet of gas and six long-tons of sulfur per day. There are nine employees at the plant today and the throughput has decreased to about 4 million cubic feet of gas and two long-tons of sulfur. The Frederic 10 Sulfur Plant was completed in late 1985 with construction costs estimated at $11,000,000.

Frederic Township Supervisor, Harold Mertes, estimated that the SWEPI closing will decrease Frederic Township's state equalization value by $2,000,000. One example of how this loss will effect Crawford County residents is through the Crawford AuSable Schools. Mr. Paul Lerg, Assistant Superintendent, reported that the schools will lose approximately $59,640.00 in operational and debt retirement funds a year.

Frederic 10 employees will be offered positions at other company facilities.

Construction To Begin On 18-Hole Golf Course Near Four Mile Road

By Irene Pettyjohn

Construction of an 18-hole golf course near the corner of Four Mile and Oak roads west of I-75 will begin June 1.

Developer Jerry M. DeWitt, of Roscommon, eltimates the 220-acre golf course will cost $1 million to build. The par 72 course will be owned by Four Mile Limited Partnership, a group including a number of in-

DeWitt said the course will feature large greens and tees, grass and sand bunkers, and the latest design in watering systems. The course design provides for spacious natural areas between fairways. DeWitt describes the overall lay-out of the course as "gently rolling to deep valleys on a picturesque setting."

The 2,700 square foot clubhouse will include a pro shop, beverage bar, and light food service area. The course will also offer a full-length driving range.

Construction of the course is scheduled to take two years. The 18 holes will be built the first year and most of the second year will be spent growing the high quality grass needed for the golf course.

The course is expected to employ about 12 persons when in operation, DeWitt said. "This will be a top quality golf course complex offered at reasonable prices," he said. The architect for the project is J. John Gorney, Inc., of Grand Rapids. The ground breaking ceremony is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, June 1st. The public is invited.

Lake Margrethe Survey Finds Walleye, Bass

A good supply of walleye and bass were found in Lake Margrethe during a general netting survey completed last Thursday by the DNR Fisheries Division.

The survey, conducted every five to seven years, began Monday, May 16, when ten nets were lowered into the lake. The nets, three small mesh tyke, three large mesh tyke, and four trap, collected fish for three nights.

When the live nets were raised, the fish caught inside were weighed, measured to 1/10 of an inch, and a scale sample was taken. The scale sample tells technicians the exact age of each fish. By comparing the weight and length to exact age, Fisheries Division can evaluate the success of previously planted fish, such as tiger muskie, walleye, and northern pike.

The survey will also evaluate the condition of bluegill, rockbass, yellow perch, and smallmouth and largemouth bass. These surveys will also be compared with state averages to determine how the fish in Lake Margrethe compare with other Michigan lakes.

Among the fish netted this week was a 26inch muskie. Surveyors reported a good supply of walleye ranging 18-22 inches long, with some as long as 25 inches, and plenty of smallmouth and largemouth bass.

Ed Smiddy, fisheries technician, recalled that during past DNR netting projects misunderstandings, including erroneous reports that the DNR was taking fish from Lake Margrethe and using them to stock Houghton Lake, caused area residents some concern. Smiddy said that several lake residents approached the surveying crews during the current project and asked questions regarding the purpose of the netting.

Hanson Appointed Next Camp Grayling Commander

Colonel David B. Hanson will be the new commander of the Michigan National Guard's largest training site, Camp Grayling, beginning in August of this year, announced General Veron J. Andrews, Adjutant General of Michigan.

Colonel Hanson was born in Grayling and served in numerous staff assignments at Camp Grayling before being posted to Lansing in 1984 where he served as the State Maintenance Officer for the Michigan Department of Military Affairs. His duties included the supervision Maintenance Organizational throughout the State and the Mobilization and Training Equipment Site at Camp Grayling. These shops are manned by a fulltime National Guard maintenance force of 330 soldiers.

Colonel Hanson's duties as Camp Commander of Camp Grayling will include supervising a full-time force of 200 Guardsmen and Guardswomen. Camp Grayling is the largest National Guard training site in the country and annually has over 25,000 Guardsoldiers Regular Army soldiers training there.

Colonel Hanson was a combat tanker in the Korean War and wears the 2nd Indianhead Division patch on his right shoulder. He is married to Sherry Hanson of Grayling and he has three sons who are full time in the military. Captain Mark Hanson is a graduate of the United States Military Academy and still on active duty and First Lieutenant Scott Hanson is the Range Control Officer at Camp Grayling. Sgt. Curt Hanson is a full-time employee at the

M.A.T.E.S. facility in Grayling. He also has a daughter, Karen Marie Hanson, of Phoenix, and two step-children, Robert Dillenbeck, of Lansing, and Rick Dillenbeck, a helicopter pilot selectee with the Michigan Army National Guard.

Colonel Hanson is a graduate of the Command and General Staff College at Fort Levenworth and has a BA degree from Spring Arbor College. He has performed two short tours at the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D.C. on special maintenance projects and he has served on the maintenance advisory council for the National Guard of the United States.

Hanson will succeed Colonel Richard Schmidt, who completes his 3-year tour of duty as Camp Grayling Commander this year.

Colonel and Mrs. Hanson will be moving from Lansing to Grayling in June.

Hartshorn, who is on the Crawford County Literacy Council, said that the largest group of unemployed people are those without reading skills. Being able to read shows employers that you can commit to something and will follow through, Hartshorn said, and employers are looking for that.

Since employers won't hire people who can't read, Hartshorn said the literacy council has targeted the illiterate population as their new emphasis on which to concentrate. If you can't read, you can't even work at the simple jobs, she said.

organization Another

looking for work is the Employment Michigan Secutiry Commision (ME-SC). James Karpicke, director of the MESC in Grayling, said the MESC has two divisions dealing with unemployment claims and iob services.

Karpicke said his job is to help people register their skills and match them with an employer's needs. An average of 25 to 30 a day come into the office, Karpicke said, and they are able to match about 350 a year. "We are far above the state average," he added.

Karpicke also mentioned that the job service provided by the MESC is open to anyone seeking employment and not just those who have which can help persons become unemployed.

Opinions

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

DRIVING AROUND CRAWFORD COUNTY:

* Some newcomers to the area don't know how North Down River Road, which more or less travels east and west, got its name. M-72 East used to be called South Down River Road. North Down River Road ran east and west on the north side of the AuSable mainstream. South Down River Road ran east and west on the south side of the AuSable mainstream.

∴ M-72 West in the warm months may be the busiest two-lane road in the county. Making a left turn from Old Dam Road onto M-72 West wins my nomination as the most difficult left hand turn in the county because of the heavy traffic.

* How quickly we adapt to newly paved streets and roads. I drove on some of the new streets in Grayling on Saturday and it was hard remembering what the dirt streets were like. One dirt street that I'll always remember, though, will be Michigan Avenue from near the Michelson Memorial Church to the elementary school. Remember the big drop-off from the paved road to the dirt road?

★ I-75 is a different world sometimes. On Saturday evening we had a problem with our auto on I-75 North right near the East Branch. During the 20 minutes we were pulled along the shoulder with the hood of the car up, several cars went by and honked. The people in the cars that honked were strangers, not friends, and I interpreted the honking as their way of saying "Ha Ha, it's Saturday night and your car broke down."

Those are the sort of people you run into on I-75. Whenever I have had car problems on other roads in the county, friends, neighbors, or relatives have always stopped to lend a hand. * Speaking of I-75, does anyone know what made those holes or puncture marks in I-75 South just north of Frederic? Those holes stretch for a mile or two in the right hand lane and have been there for a year or

* Twenty years ago in Crawford County, when the pace was a little slower, very few drivers went through intersections as the traffic light changed to red. If a motorist approached the intersection and the traffic light had just turned to yellow, most local drivers would stop and wait for the next green light. In those days, a yellow light meant clear the intersection — not enter it.

Things have changed at the traffic light intersection of Michigan Avenue and I-75 Business Loop. It seems more and more drivers heading straight through this intersection on the business loop are disregarding yellow and red lights. How many times has a motorist on Michigan Avenue had to wait for through traffic even when the traffic signal is green for his direction?

And it seems to me many of these vehicles on the business loop downtown are traveling awful fast. To make matters worse, some actually speed up to beat a red light.

You know what will happen next? As more and more poor drivers abuse traffic signal laws, the good drivers will have to suffer as well. All drivers will be forced to sit at the intersection longer. After one red light switches on, there will have to be a pause of several seconds before the other red light can switch to green — just to make sure the intersection is clear.

I place most of these poor drivers in the category of selfish people. They only think about themselves - that they're running late or it's too boring to sit at a traffic light, They obviously don't think about the many pedestrians or other motorists they endanger when they go speeding through yellow and red lights.

Letters to the Editor.

Better Fish Management Needed for Area Rivers

Dear Editor:

A recent article by outdoor Detroit Free Press writer Tom Opre, "Almost perfect plan might save the once-famous Manistee" prompts my comments. Like all other fishermen of our local rivers I have watched the steady decline of quality trout fishing over the past 15 years while the DNR has ignored the problem. Fifteen years ago one could go on the Manistee during the Hex hatch with a reasonable expectation of catching at least two or more trout over 16 inches. No more. The same can be said about the AuSable. Ten and twelve inch trout that you would be ashamed to keep back then are about all you get get while a 14 incher is a trophy.

However, I do not find the 'almost perfect' adequate, or even close to it for 20 years or more of neglect mismanagement of our trout streams. The problems, in addition to deteriorating water quality, is overfishing.

On the Manistee, they have designated one small stretch

'flies only', nothing else while the fishing has decline to zero.

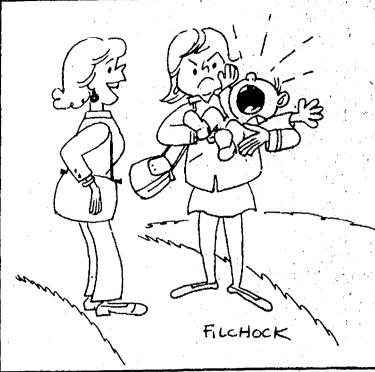

A look at the planting of Grayling in the Manistee shows the sterility of stream and fish management in Michigan. Here they release 100,000 grayling in a stream that has been deteriorating for years to the point that it won't even maintain a population of browns and rainbows, and they expect a fish as fragile as the grayling to succeed. They didn't even have good sense to close the stream to fishing or to introduce them during the closed season. They just dumped them in and hoped they would live. They didn't.

I fished the Madison river in Montana a few years ago. They take real pride in the quality of their streams and the fishing enjoyment from them. Something the people of Michigan and the DNR should do. Bait fishing, and the types of bait and hardware are restricted. Fly fishing and catch and release are encouraged and used as part of their management practices.

One year when I was there the daily creel limit was three trout (browns or rainbows) only one of which could be over 16 inches. the next years I found the limit had been raised to five. They knew how many trout, and what sizes, inhabited each mile of river. Some parts of the river you could fish from a boat, other parts you had to wade to fish, other parts was catch and release. Some feeder streams were closed for spawning. I have heard of no such management practices in Michigan.

Michigan has no stream left that can rightfully be designated 'Blue Ribbon'. Not the AuSable, The Manistee, nor any other. But we do have many that can be with proper management and co-operation. Some Michigan anglers will have to be content to fish for fun rather than fish for fish or we will never see good stream fishing again.

Negative News Coverage Is Hurting Local Image

May 19, 1988 Mr. Joe H. Stroud

tive sense.

Needless to say, the City of Grayling and Crawford County has been going through some very trying times in the last few years. Some of the dissention was caused by an outside group that tried to impose fishing restrictions on some of the local sportsmen and property owners by promoting "fish and release" only on a section of the AuSable River This arrangement would serve very few and deny most of the area residents of some of the special joys of this area.

Another issue that has caused problems is the presence of the National Guard. Many of these same people seem to take delight in the extreme negative position of keeping the Guard out. The Guard has their problems but they are trying to cooperate more every year and is much more responsive to complaints.

We are enclosing copies of articles from The Detroit Free Press and Michigan Living that typify this kind of negative thinking.

Mr. Stroud, we of the AuSable Ministerial Association are united in bringing healing to our community. We ask you to use all of the influence that you can in encouraging your editors and columnists to please look at the positive aspects about us. All we are asking for is some balance in both the good and bad, not just the narrow opinion of a few with only a negative perspective or an axe to grind.

Thank you very much, your help is appreciated by all of us in the AuSable Ministerial Association. Sincerely, Rev. Don Broeker,

President AuSable Ministerial Association

Where Should Responsibility Rest?

by Richard Milliman

AMERICA IS INDEED a litigious society - that means there's a lot of people suing a lot of other people.

And it seems to be getting more and more expensive every year.

But whoever said justice is cheap? These thoughts are prompted by a couple of recent news stories.

IN HAMTRAMCK, Immaculate Conception Urainian Catholic Church has filed for bankruptcy because of a court order to pay $4.2 million in a personal injury lawsuit. In 1982, the parish rented its Church-owned Campground in Oakland County to the Amalgamated Engineering Workers Local 412 for a picnic. One of the picnickers, Steven Tresik, dove into Lake Oakland, which was too shallow for a dive, and the accident turned him into a quadriplegic. He sued.

Wayne Circuit Court awarded Mr. Tresik $5.5 million. Lake Oakland, at the time of the dive, "contained an inadequate water level suitable for diving," the court found.

Oakland County agreed to pay $25,000 of the judgement: the Amalgamated Engineering local paid $500,000. The remainder is the obligation of the church, whose liability insurance covered only $500,000.

IN ANOTHER sports-related suit, a 42year-old Macomb County banker was injured in a recreational softball game. As Charles Reinhart was running out a batted ball, he was hit in the head by a softball thrown by the opposing shortstop. Mr. Reinhart suffered brain damage, blindness th one eye, has had surgery three times and remains in a rehabilitation center since the accident last summer. He is suing the United States Slo-Pitch Softball Association, the company that made the softball, the park where the game was played, and the opposing player who threw the softball.

This, too, will be an interesting case to watch develop.

STANDING BACK at a safe, personally uninvolved distance, this whole trend of personal liability suits is disturbing.

> Mr. Tresik's condition is truly lamentable. His diving accident is a tragic one.

But where should rest the responsibility for the results of his actions? Who or what is responsible for his decision to dive into a lake which "contained an inadequate water level suitable for diving?" Is it the county where the accident occurred? Or the union which sponsored the picnic he attended? Or the church which owns the land which the union rented? The court ruled that all three must pay.

And how about softball player Reinhart? Once more, this is a tragic circumstance, and we all grieve for the results of this accident. But again, where does the real responsibility rest? That, of course, is what Mr. Reinhart is asking the court to decide.

AS A YOUNGER PERSON, I was an avid softball player, getting into games as often as I could. In those days, when a player was injured – and it happened once in a while - someone usually would arrange a benefit game, or take up some other sort of volunteer collection. Of course, injuries such as Mr. Reinhart received are rather rare, in my knowledge.

I quit playing softball when my family responsibilities grew. After our first child was born, I hung up the spikes, partly due to the possibility of injury, it would off the job due to a softball injury, it would have had very severe consequences for our young family, and I didn't want any benefits played for me. It was a matter of priorities

TODAY, HOWEVER, the all too often answer seems to be - sue somebody. Maybe that's right. Maybe the church and the union and the county are responsible for the results of Mr. Tresik's fateful dive. Maybe the softball association and the park and the softball maker and the opposing player should pay for Mr. Reinhart's condition. Responsibility bears a price.

But should there also be a pricetag for participation?

Help your kids to just say no.

Report Recommends Enforcing Seat Belt Law, Banning Radar Detectors

By Warren M. Hoyt Michigan Press Association

Stricter enforcement of Michigan's safety belt law and a ban on the sale and use of radar detectors were two of the 48 priority recommendations made in the final report of the Governor's Conference on Traffic Safety, which was released recently by Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

Austin called the report "a life-saving agenda for 1990's."

The 48 priority recommendations selected by the conference's Executive Council from a list of 260 recommendations deal with: restraint use and protective devises: impaired driving or walking; road improvement and traffic control; vehicle operator. qualification; organization and planning; data resource management; and public education and marketing. Although Austin said there was no "top" recommendation, he stressed the importance of seat belt usage. "The one issue that deserves considerable attention is to get more people to wear safety belts," he said.

Col. Ritchie T. Davis, director of the State Police, agreed. He has issued a directive to state troopers asking for stricter enforcement of the current law, and said that more citations and verbal warnings will probably be issued to motorists not in compliance with the law.

Davis said increased usage of seat belts would have a major impact on traffic safety, and estimated 48 percent of the state's residents currently use seat belts.

"If we can get 70 percent of the people using them by 1990, we might have a greater traffic impact than anything else we could do," Davis said.

Austin said increased seat belt usage is necessary because Michigan drivers are still involved in too many traffic fatalities. "Although great progress has been made in the last 15 years, Michigan's annual highway death toll of 15,000 is unacceptable."

The report recommends that the Legislature ban the use, possession and sale of radar detectors, but Austin admitted the odds of it happening soon are very slim. A bill (SB 786) that would ban radar detectors is currently buried in the Senate State Affairs, Tourism and Transportation Committee, and attempts to ban radar detectors last year when the speed limit was raised to 65 mph failed. "I don't know if the climate is any better (than last year in the Legislature), but it is a measure we ought to pursue." Austin said.

The report also recommends that safety helmets and eye protection be required for off-road vehicles (ORVs) and snowmobiles, which was hailed by Department of Natural Resources Director Gordon E. Guyer.

"The off-road vehicle issue needs attention. I think it's got out of control and is still out of control," he said.

Guyer added an ethic needs to be developed on how ORVs should be used in regards to Michigan's environment, which he said are often misused. "We should get on with implementing a large part of this agenda as quickly as possible."

Department of Transportation Director James P. Pitz pointed to items dealing with truck safety and safety around construction zones as being critical.

He said in 1986 there were 7,000 accidents on construction sites involving motor vehicles, and, with 700 projects planned for this year, "I'm very concerned about safety on construction sites."

Pitz also said truck accidents have gone 🔆 up 81 percent since 1962. "I'd like to see fines ? raised where it's a genuine deterrent to break the law," he said.

The 400 conference participants, who met last November, included engineers. traffic safety specialists, law enforcement officials, members of the judiciary, researches, educators, administrators, representatives of organizations and individuals interested in traffic safety.

European Floral Design Paraded Through Grayling

By Nancy Lemmen

Dries Alberts, a professor on leave from the Stijlgroep-Bloembinderij Dutch Institute for Floral design and Art in Utrecht, Netherlands, offered a three-day floral design seminar in Grayling last week. Sponsored by Flowers by Josie and open only to experienced florists, the seminar included instruction in bridal bouquets, table decorations, window displays and — a custom common in Europe - car decorations.

Cars decorated with large arrays of flowers are often used in parades, says Ernie co-owner Dawson. Flowers by Josie/Grey Goose Gifts, because many streets in European cities are too narrow for large floats. Students in the seminar practiced their newlylearned techniques Friday in front of the Courthouse on cars which were then on display for the Uptown Grayling Spring Walk on Satur-

Offering seminars in foreign countries is not new to Alberts and his wife, Janny, who organizes his trips abroad and travels with him. This was the Alberts' sixth visit to the United States and second visit to Grayling. Dries has also conducted seminars in Austria, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, New Zealand and Taiwan. In order to communicate with florists around the world, the Alberts - who also speak Dutch, French and German -- speak in English and employ translators who speak the local language.

When the Alberts' current year-long trip is over in July, they will return to Utrecht, where Dries works as a professor of floral design and art, designs shops and exhibitions, acts as a consultant, organizes floral study tours to foreign countries, offers seminars and authors and edits books on floral design. Janny, who has a certificate in floral design, gave up a career in fashion design to travel with Dries and plan his tours and seminars. She also works at his exhibits when he is occupied *JOBS *JOBS *JOBS *JOBS *JOBS elsewhere. "She organizes me," he says simply.

Florists in the Netherlands must have several years of education before they can open a flower shop. Says Janny, "Here (in the U.S.A.) florists learn by mistakes. They should have more education." Not so in the Netherlands, which has a government-sponsored professional floral designer education program.

For six years future florists attend classes one day per week and do schoolcontrolled work the rest of the week. During the first third of the program, they work as assistant floral designers. In the second third, they can open flower shops. The final third of the program is the Master Course in Floral Design, after which they earn titles akin to those of architects, dentists and doctors if they pass their examinations. Florist licenses are awarded only to individuals, and cannot be transferred to new owners or renters of shops.

Dries trained for his career for ten years in very good florist shops and studied landscape architecture in school. He then studied alone for 14 years in art, architecture, color, floral design and sculpture

- and from all these disciplines came up with his "totally new philosophy of floral design and techniques." He's been working for 33 years in the profession, 22 of those as a teacher.

In his seminars, Dries mixes lecture, demonstration and discussion. "It's like entertainment," he explains. "Talk a little, demonstrate a little." Adds Janny, "It's not dull. He's so creative. Not twice the same thing he maks." The flowers for his seminars come from areawholesalers. "I like to work with local flowers, ceramics, baskets." The floral arrangements of Dries Alberts and his seminar students, were on display at the Chief', Shoppenagon Hotel on Friday evening and Saturday.

Both Alberts agree that Grayling is a nice place. It has the same atmosphere as the Netherlands, they explain: Four seasons, a long winter, short spring, few mountains, flat land, lots of water. These qualities of our! area may attract them back! to Crawford County someday for a third seminar:

GHS Students Adjust To Large Universities

By Dennis Mansfield

Local students and parents alike might be happy to hear that coming from a small town like Grayling may not be a disadvantage when entering a large university.

"Certainly not," said Damon Thayer, 21, a Grayling resident. "I think I was at an advantage.

Thayer, who graduated from Grayling High School in 1985, is now in his junior year at Michigan State University.

Damon said coming from a small community such as Grayling allowed him an opportunity to sit back and observe the different kinds of people and places. People in metro areas who grow up with such a variety of people around them never really notice the differences like a person seeing these for the first time, he said.

There are some things like that you never want to lose, Damon said. But you must get out of the small town way of thinking because of all the new ideas around you, he added.

Damon said while the injection of so many different people and ideas into his life was one of the most stimulating parts of college, it was also a drawback.

"I had a tougher adjustment," Damon said. Damon felt maybe if he came from a larger, metro high school he would have been used to having so many different people around. When talking about the size and number of people at MSU, Damon said, "I was very intimidated."

Damon compared the transition like the difference between being a big fish in a little pond and a guppie in the ocean.

Damon said leaving home was not the biggest change since he knew that would happen eventually. Besides the small town friendliness the people, the biggest part of the transition is that people have to study in a different way than in high school, he said.

When asked what he would change if he started (high school) over again, Damon said, "I would have learned how to study."

Everything came so easily in high school," Damon said. "That's no criticism to GHS (Grayling High School). They were good to me."

As far as preparing for college, Damon said, "I went in blind."

Damon said it took him until a term or two into his sophmore year before he really felt comfortable. Around that time he started making friends and became involved in different activities. Becoming more active aided his progress in school and helped him find his niche.

"My freshman year was a disaster," Damon said. Damon also said he never thought of quitting school even though he hated it at first, and he is glad since he now loves being at MSU.

open to new ideas.

anything," Damon said. Damon currently has a 2.98 G.P.A. in the communication program at MSU. After graduation in spring of 1989, Damon would like to obtain a full time position at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia where he now works part time in the public relations field. This would allow him to fulfill his career goals and be around his favorite hobby-horses.

Damon's advice to future college students was for them to keep their minds

Vikings Begin Pre-District Baseball This Friday

Unearned runs again cost Grayling in a doubleheader loss to Petoskey May 17. But the Vikings will have a chance to start the season all over again in pre-district action Friday, May 27, at home against West Branch.

In the Petoskey first game, Grayling gave up four unearned runs in the last inning to lose 7-6.

Chris Skidmore pitched a good game, giving up only four hits. But six of the seven runs were unearned.

John Kinnee got Grayling on the board with an RBI hit to right field driving in Flaskie Robins, Jason Teddy hit a lead-off home run in the second inning.

In the fourth inning Clark Allen drove in two runs and Bob Butler drove in another. Jeff Palmer doubled in the last run in the sixth inning.

Here's an oddity...The biggest paid attendance for any baseball game in history was NOT for a World Series game or even a regular season game - but for an exhibition game!...The all-time attendance record of 93,103 was set at an exhibition game between the Dodgers and Yankees in the Los Angeles Coliseum in 1959, honoring Roy Campanella...No other baseball game has ever topped that, before or since.

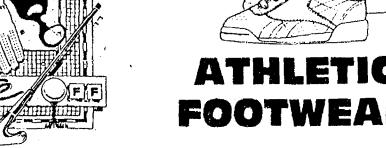

Did you know that the famous American food 🛶 the hot dog — was invented because of sports?...A mah named Harry Stevens was in charge of the concessions at New York baseball games in the early 1900s, and one day it was cool and he wasn't selling much cold food.; That was all they had at ball parks in those days...During the game he went shopping for something warm he could sell...Up to that time, hot dogs were unknown.,. First, Stevens bought sausage at a neighborhood butcher shop, and then he added rolls so the fans could hold the sausages — and the hot dog was born...The name "hot dog" was coined. by sports cartoonist Tad Dorgan who was at the game that day.

The beautiful spring weather we've been experiencing has brought out many Tisherman in the Grayling Larea. Everywhere there is any water there seems to be some people fishing. Some people go other places than Lake Margrethe or the Au-Sable and Manistee Rivers to do their fishing, however. Luke Petrosky and his son Luke Jr. went to the U.P. last week to catch their fish. In Manistique Lake the father and son fishing team caught Walleye and Northern Pike.

I am told that the "Labo. Cultural Foundation", one of Japan's largest educational organizations, sponsors a youth exchange program in Japan. It is similar to the National 4-H Program here in the U.S. In fact, the two groups interact together for a National Competition involving public and private school students, high school and college level, and involving as part of the competition, writing, aptitude and citizenship. Thousands of students are considered to be accepted to go to Japan to work and study there for one year as part of the Labo Cultural Foundation. James Boone, a senior at Calvary Baptist, has worked very hard to be one of those chosen to go to Japan under this program. His hard work and efforts have paid off. He is the first student as young as 17 years to be selected to go. He will be working in the Labo Cultural Foundation offices and will assist those Japanese students who are coming to the U.S. as part of

"We'd walked through enough RVs and paged through so many brochures, we could have designed our own unit.

"By the time we settled on what we wanted, we'd hardly given a thought to where we'd go for financing. We figured one RV loan was about the same as the next.

"Some friends of ours told us about the great deal they got from NBD. So we decided to give them a try. "We met with the people at the bank and spent a good hour or so talking about all the different financing options. It was time well spent, because we found out there's more to an RV loan than getting what sounds like the lowest rate.

"The loan officer at the bank really took the time to make sure we were satisfied with our payments and all the other details. We came away with the feeling that if the bank put this much attention into our RV loan, we'd be smart to do more business there.

"Now we're doing all our banking at NBD.

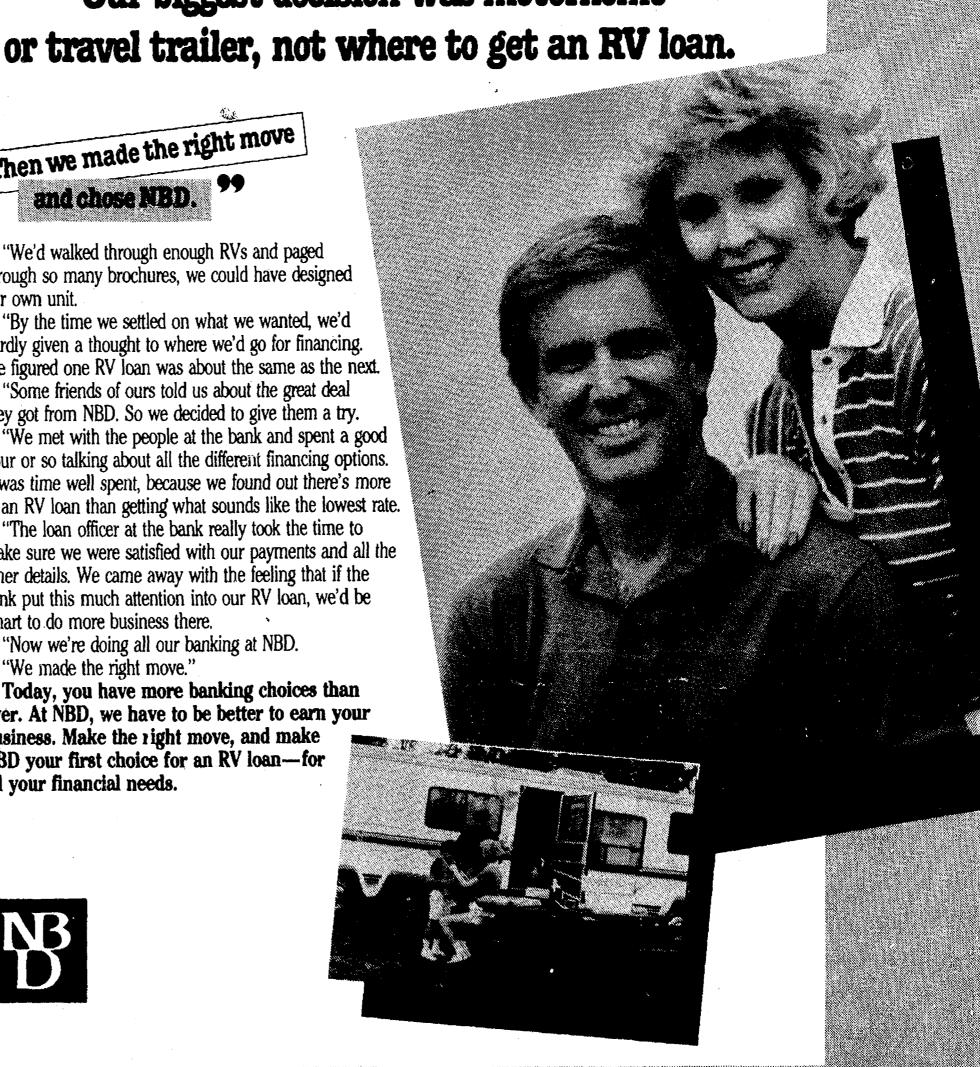

"We made the right move."

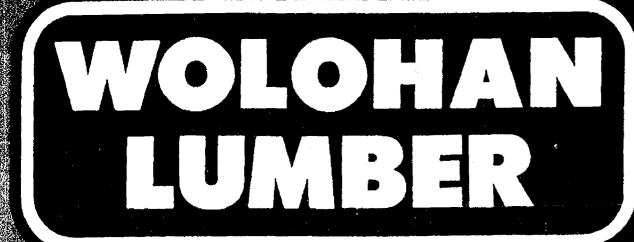

Today, you have more banking choices than ever. At NBD, we have to be better to earn your business. Make the right move, and make NBD your first choice for an RV loan—for all your financial needs.

Bits of Talk

By Sandy McAnallen

Jane Ann (nee Martin) Patchak has retired from teaching at Armstrong State College in Savannah, Georgia, where she taught anthropology for thirteen years. Her future plans are uncertain but she does expect to be in Michigan for a summer visit and plans to spend some time in Gray-

The Crawford County Historical Museum will be open starting on Memorial Day. The museum will again be staffed by volunteers.

George and Helen Daniels have given a memorial gift in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Frank May, Sr. The gift was matched by Dow Corning Corporation.

Stewart and Jo Ann Rose are exceptionally proud grandparents these days since news that their granddaughter, Perashina La-Motte, has been invited to perform on the Chesaning Showboat opening night, July 11. Perashina, a singer, is 14 years old and has been pursuing a singing career for many years. She made a tape in New York demonstrating her abilities for an audition application to Star Search and everyone in the family is very hopeful that she will make it. The Chesaning Showboat is a very prestigious place of entertainment in Michigan. Perashina will be singing live on stage in front of over 6,000 people. Stewart and Jo Ann Rose are attending, of course and have excellent seats I'm told. Perashina lives in Burton, Michigan (near Flint) with her mom and dad, Bill and Dana

I was fortunate to get a serving of the recipe for "Chocolate Elephant" that was printed in the May 5th addition of the Avalanche in Phyllis Brummer's "Recipe" column. "Chocolate Elephant", as you may recall is a kind of Mousse but named elephant because the "Frugal Gourmet's" wife felt there should be more elephants in the world. Anyway, this was undoubtedly the best dessert I have ever tasted in my many years of chocolate eating. This is a recipe that should be cut out and used whenever you want to feed a big group of chocolate lovers because it serves ten to twelve people...unless I'm coming over.

That's all for this week. Don't forget to call me with those wonderful stories and bits of talk we love to read about. My number is 348-7439 evenings.

Lake Margrethe is scheduled to receive 60,000 walleye from the Spruce Walleye

Rearing Pond in mid June. These walleye will come from eggs taken from walleye in the Muskegon River. These eggs are taken because the Muskegon River has a surplus of returning walleye each spring, more than the river can support. "Fisheries is a cooperative effort," Ed Smiddy stated, "and this time Lake Margrethe fishermen" will benefit."

Memorial Day Ceremonies Begin Diamond Jubilee

The first major event on the calendar for the Camp Grayling Diamond Jubilee celebration will be the Memorial Day dedication of a monument to the Michigan National Guard and the lighting of the Memorial

The day's program will begin at 10 a.m. at the Grayling Cemetery where a ceremony honoring the war dead will be held. This year a complement of 180 members of the Camp Grayling Installation Support Unit in dress uniform will be in attendance. During the program a flyover by guard helicopters will take place and music will be provided by the Grayling High School Band.

The local American Legion Post under the leadership of their Commander John Keir will conduct the prayers, rifle salute, and remembrances.

From the cemetery, a parade will make its way to the Crawford County Historical Society Museum in downtown Grayling. The march will include the band, guard, a Minuteman Soldier, a contingent of Vietnam veterans and other organizations.

At the museum, a monument will be dedicated to the Michigan guard by Grayling Minuteman Foundation Chairman Jack Alef and Promotion Chairman Don Geiss. The Cannon Monument will be permanently mounted on a concrete foundation with a plaque honoring the guard attached.

From the museum, the audience and participants will proceed across the street to the County Building where the Memorial Flame will be lit. Dedicating that flame will be Maj. Gen. Vernon J. Andrews, Michigan Adjutant General. Once again music will be played by the Grayling High School Band.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held for the persons attending in the lobby of the Chief Shoppenagon's Motor Hotel.

PUBLIC HEARING

The Crawford County Zoning Commission has received an application for a Special Use permit described as follows:

Request No. 2-88 Purpose—home business-to operate a hunting, fishing, bait, and tackle store in their garage.

From Calvary Baptist Church -

The Gospel of John

Part No. 34 A False Heart of Depravity Rather than believing on Jesus Christ as the Messiah, the Jews "murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven." (John 6:41). Rather than accepting Him as the eternal God made flesh through the virgin birth, they mocked his claims by implying he was the human son of Joseph. (John 6:42). Jesus rebuked their murmuring. (John 6:43).While rebuking their sin and unbelief, Jesus also reminded them again that salvation is of God not man. "No man can come to me except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day." (John 6:44). He exhorted them with a reference from Isaiah 54:13 of the importance of hearing and learning of the Father, and coming to Christ. (John 6:45). He reminded them that he was the only living person who had seen the Father. (John 6:46). He then encouraged them again to believe on Him unto salvation. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life." (John 6:47).

Jesus now reaffirms His diety to the Jews. "I am the bread of life." (John 6:48). He is self-existent, eternal life, and the source of all such life. He reminded them of the temporal nature of the manna under Moses which ended in death. (John 6:49). He then told them that through His incarnation, He became the living bread which came down from Heaven to conquer death. "This is the bread which cometh down from heaven. that a man may eat thereof, and not die." (John 6:50). Christ then put it all together, "I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world." (John 6:51).

The response of the Jews is again unbelief. "The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" (John 6:52). What they did not understand was His reference to the cross and His crucifixion for sins. They thought He was talking about cannibalism, which was repulsive to them. May we encourage you to read Matthew 13:10-17 to understand why Jesus spoke in parables and veiled language to those in unbelief. It is a serious thing to reject the Words of God in unbelief. It leads to blindness and hardness of heart. Unbelief of God's Word is the most dangerous sin a human being can commit, and the only unpardonable sin for those facing death.

The Deacon's Speakin' Deacon Bob Nolan

Scripture Reference: Matthew 28:16-20 Jesus presents Himself to us as the Son on Whom rests the Spirit. As Son, He constantly refers His action to the Father. He is the Son Who reveals the Father in the power of the Spirit.

dedication of one's whole name of Jesus Christ; then being to this mystery. It is not only a dedication of the mind. It is a total giving of self to communion with the Living God Who as a Father makes us His children, as Son draws us to Himself, and as Spirit gives us Divine life.

This faith receives its start through Baptism. It is Baptism which gives us the ability to be children of God, brothers and sisters of Christ, and temples of the Holy Spirit. By faith we respond to God's call which is given to us by the preaching of the Church. By Baptism God welcomes our approach and makes us enter into the mystery of the Trinity.

We may now try to understand the two parts that are found in the words of Jesus: Go, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations. Baptize them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. By the word disciple we can understand two essential things. Disciples are dedicated to the teaching of Jesus. And entry into the life of God is through the Sacrament of Baptism.

Through the teaching of Jesus and thanks to Baptism, we have a future. We become sharers in that future life that God has for all of us.

What are the practical consequences of Baptism?

The New Testament speaks of the Baptism in Jesus' name. Is this different from the Baptism in the name of the Trinity? In his first talks Peter says: 'You must reform and be Bap-Faith in Jesus Christ is the tized, each one of you, in the you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.'

> This does not refer to a Baptism given without reference to God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit. As is often taught by Paul, Baptism means that we now belong to Christ, are united to Christ by the gift of the same life, and is united with others baptized in the unity of Christ. The baptized become the brother and sister of Christ, temple of the Holy Spirit and adopted children of the Father.

> Another consequence of Baptism is that the believer enters into a process of identification with Jesus. He calls us to have one main ambition: to become as much as possible children of God.

> This is the work of the Holy Spirit: it nears completion when we have been successful in our vocation as children of God. And this is not accomplished without us. Very simply, are we trying to walk step by step in Christ's footsteps as a child would walk in their father's footsteps? ("The Deacon Speakin" is a paid advertisement provided by the Knights of Columbus Council 1982 of Grayling. It does not reflect the views or the policies of the Crawford County Avalanche. The views expressed are those of Deacon Bob Nolan of St. Mary's Catholic Church.)

1 tsp. cinnamon 4 tsp. baking powder 2 c. ground walnuts or pecans Up to 8 c. cake flour

Cream butter well and add oil. Beat well. Add sugar and beat well (lots of beating is the key to this recipe). Add eggs, yolks, cream, whiskey and orange rind. Beat well. Dissolve soda in orange juice and add. Add cinnamon, baking powder, nuts, and 5 c. flour. Beat well. Stir in enough more flour to make workable dough. Dough should be stiff enough to pull off pieces about the size of walnuts and roll between hands into one inch thick ovals or form into balls and flatten slightly. Bake on lightly greased sheets for 15 to 20 minutes at 350 degrees until firm but not brown. Cool completely on racks. These cookies are tender and must be handled carefully or they will crumble. When cold. dip in slightly warm honey diluted with a small amount of water. Dry on racks. This makes a large quantity but cookies can be frozen before dipping in honey. Use a rigid container so cookies will not be broken. Saragli

11/2 lb. walnuts, gound 1/2 tsp cinnamon

1 lb phyllo

1 lb sweet butter, melted

Generously grease jellyroll pan with butter. Place 4 sheets phyllo on table, each one brushed with butter. Lightly sprinkle on nuts mixed with cinnamon. Add another phyllo, butter, and sprinkle lightly with nut mixture. Repeat two more times. Roll up starting from short side and cut in 11/2 inch slices. Lay flat in pan. Repeat with remaining phyllo dough. Add one tbsp. butter on each slice and bake at 350 degrees until light brown. Immediately pour syrup over slices.

Syrup - 1 c. water - 1 c. sugar - 1 tsp lemon

Combine ingredients and bring to boil. Simmer 5 minutes and cool.

What people don't realize is that 99 percent of the time the fawn's mother is probably watching them as they pick it up and carry it away. Practically any animal will leave its young for various lengths of time. Never far away, always watchful, the parent is there.

After the fawn is "saved", problems begin to develop. What to feed it? Where to keep it? How long to keep it? A wild animal raised in close captivity does not have an opportunity to fine tune survival skills needed in the wild and has a reduced chance of survival when released.

Some animals become dangerous as they become older. A young girl from the thumb area was nearly killed several years ago by an antlered buck which had been raised by a neighboring farmer. The 11/2 year old buck attacked the girl for no apparent reason, severely lacerating her face with his antlers as she approached to pet him.

A raccoon. another frequently "saved" baby animal is a very endearing wild baby. But they have a real tendency to viciousness as they grow older.

The best thing to do when you see a young wild animal is to leave it alone. Don't touch, don't approach too closely. Observe it quietly if you wish, but leave it where you find it. Nature takes care of its own.

CHOICE OF CONTACT

QUESTION: Does a person with a single vision problem have a choice of more than one type of contact lens to choose from? ANSWER: If one type of contact lens was superior to all others, then that kind would probably be the only one on the market. It just isn't so. There are more choices in contacts today than ever before.

There are the so-called "conventional" or "hard" lenses, the soft lenses made from a more pliable plastic, and a more recent introduction is the "wet" lens, which is a conventional lens that features a highly moisture-retentive sur-

A number of people consider soft lenses to be especially comfortable. Others cannot do without the convenience of the long-wear, wet lenses.

Poet's Corner My World

As I walked along a flowing stream I seemed to have remembered a dream; A dream of a world of loving and caring. and everyone in this world their feelings they're sharing. I wish this world was a real live place, when I look at my world tears rool down my face. A world of killing, a world of hate, A world where no one knows their own fate. A world of pain and so many tears, A world where people live under their fears. A World of brutal deaths and bloos shed, A world where man wants all other men dead. A world where children have to hide, so that their parents can save their pride. The cuts, the bruises their parents have gave, now all we have left is their names on their grave. This world is so bad, I don't understand, why doesn't God just give us a hand. A world of disease, that is spread in shame, a disease that scares people just by its name. A world where people steal and cheat, a world where man has to sleep on the street. A world of such pain, a world that's insane. Why Dear God do we live this way? Not knowing if we will be alive the next day.

I wish I could live in that dream world of mine, and I know that all would be forever fine. Tracy Wolf

Neighbors

It used to be that neighbors Were not just folks who lived next door. They were almost part of the family, Your real good friends and more.

They were folks who shared your troubles. Shared whatever came your way, Be it hard luck or good harvest. They helped brighten your darkest day.

They were there to help build a house. They always came to help raise a barn, Or just a visit in the evening, To just sit around and yarn.

If sickness or injury struck you, They would see your work got done. Be it crops to cultivate or harvest, They would come upon the run.

They were always there in time of trouble, Always willing to share your load. If sickness or death came to your family, They'd come hurrying up the road.

There would be food and love in plenty, To help see you through. No one had much money, Still they'd do all they could do.

It would be nice to see those days again. When you helped your neighbors more. You shared their happiness and grief. Weren't just folks who lived next door.

OFFICIAL BICENTENNIAL BAND — The 5th Michigan Volunteer Infantry Regimental Band will march in the Milltown Parade.

Michigan's Bicentennial Band To March in Milltown Parade

Anyone who thinks the Civil War is now beyond memory — laid to rest in our 19th century past — has not met the members of the 5th Michigan Volunteer Infantry Regimental Band or its director, Novi resident, Guy Smith.

According to Smith, there are only 10 bands in the U.S. which specialize in the music of the Civil War era. The 5th Michigan Regimental Band is one of only four for whom the band is not a full-time profession or occupation. "We are unique in Michigan," says Smith with pride.

Using the Civil War theme and playing martial music, the band offers the public something few other bands of today do -- a truly patriotic pageant, program of American music with especially clear emphasis on the works of John Philip Sousa, and a display of love of country and the flag which flies over her. In keeping with the authenticity of Civil War Regimental Bands, they consist of 30 people, which includes musicians, national colors and support.

The music they play is authentic Civil War era music rearranged for modern day instrumentation by their conductor, Guy Smith. Dedicated band members have researched the history and music of the Michigan regiment. They have re-created the music, uniform and dress and the performance style of the original 5th Michigan Regimental Band.

This unique group, which was named Michigan's official Bicentennial Band, will be marching in the Milltown Parade Saturday, July 30th.

Camp Grayling Range Firing

Range firing will be conducted at Camp Grayling May 25-June 1. Firing will be in the following areas: The Small Arms ranges located west of Lake Margrethe,

The Small Arms ranges located west of Lake Margrethe, north of Howe Rd, east of the gas pipeline and south of Portage Creek. Firing will be continuous 29 May through 1 June.

The Range 40 Complex located north of County Rd 612, east of Guthrie Lk., south of Old State Rd 618, and west of County Rd F97 (Twin Bridge Rd). Firing will be continuous from 25 May to 1 June.

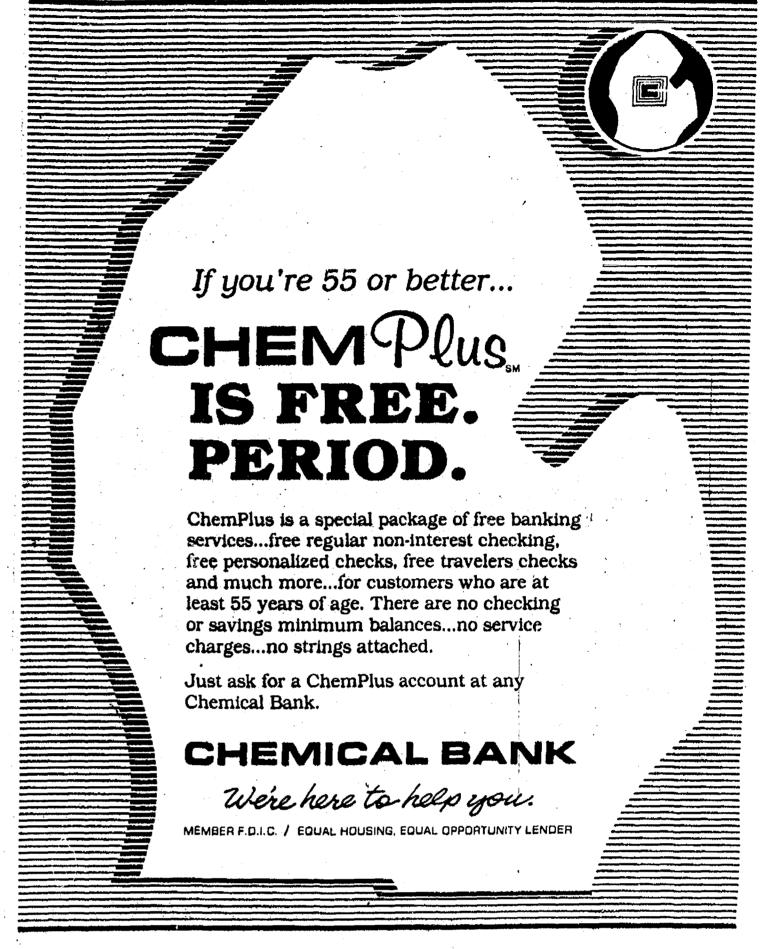

The Ranges will be closed to the public during these periods and all persons are warned to keep out of the areas identified.

Last Day of School To Be Thursday, June 9

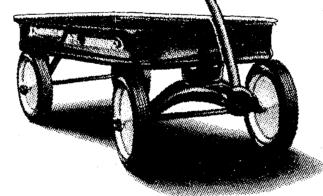

The Crawford AuSable School District School Calendar has been changed due to the lack of snow days during the school year. State law requires that any snow days beyond the first two be made up. The district had only two snow days this year and thus did not have to make up any days.

There will be no school on Friday, June 10, as it was scheduled as a make-up day. The last day of school will be Thursday, June 9, a half day of school with dismissal beginning at 11:30 at both elementary schools.
